

Dear Mr. Bolettieri (and co-presenters),

Thank you for spending your time holding a session at the SBU IT/Engineering job fair on the 11th of February for Career Center internships. It was interesting getting to hear about all of the wildly diverse roles at the Career Center you can intern in, such as for career coaching, communications, graphic design, marketing, operations/talent management, etc.

With my skillset as a computer science major, I find myself fitting in as a Communications Intern very well. I love interacting with computers in any way, and my writing skills aren't that shabby either. I already have a myriad of experiences in web/software development, and I have a passion for utilizing video editing tools and assessing client needs (as outlined in the learning objectives).

In addition, I will be right on campus during the times that were outlined during the presentation, so there won't be instances of me being unavailable to be in person.

Best Regards,

Kevin Li
